Description :

Coat, Medical, Woven, White, XL Size (Product Code: SLE/MR/07) is an extra-large white protective coat used by health workers as an outer layer over their own clothing or over a surgical tunic and trousers. The XL size gives taller or broader staff room to move with scrubs underneath, and the unisex coat has long sleeves, a notched lapel collar, snap or button fastening and mid-thigh length. This woven medical coat is supplied by Jain Scientific Equipments Pvt Ltd (ScienceLab), Ambala, India.

What Is an XL Medical Coat Used For?

In health structures the XL medical coat is the protection coat staff put on over everything else, whether that is street clothing on arrival or a surgical tunic and trousers between procedures. Stocking the extra-large size alongside medium and large lets a hospital or clinic equip a whole team without asking taller staff to wear a coat that pulls across the back or rides up at the wrists.

Keep XL coats in the same laundry loop as other medical linen: disinfect them in a chlorine solution, then wash and iron. Sorting returned coats by size on separate rails makes it easier to get the right size back to each wearer, and coats with failed closures or torn pockets should be taken out of service.
