What Is the Reusable Menstrual Set Used For?

The set supports menstrual hygiene management where disposable pads are costly, hard to obtain or difficult to dispose of. A pad is placed in a cotton holder, which is fastened with its ribbon bands; the absorbent flannel-type cotton faces the body and the synthetic backing helps stop leaks. Straight and winged shapes let the user choose what feels secure for the day, and the pouch keeps clean or used pads out of sight until they can be washed.

Schools and relief programmes often hand out the set together with soap and laundry powder, since pads need a thorough wash with soap and clean water and complete drying, ideally in sunlight, before reuse. Short guidance on washing, drying and private storage helps girls use the kit with confidence.

What to Specify When Ordering
