Description :

Reagent Bottle Stopper (Product Code: SLE/P/21) is a plastic stopper used to close reagent bottles in school, college and research laboratories, keeping stored solutions free of dust and evaporation losses. It is listed in the sizes 19/26 and 38 mm, making it a handy spare part for lab equipment when an original stopper is lost or broken. It is made by Jain Scientific Equipments Pvt Ltd (ScienceLab), an OEM manufacturer, at its own factory in Ambala, India.

What Is a Reagent Bottle Stopper Used For?

Reagent bottles lose their usefulness quickly once a stopper goes missing: solutions evaporate, absorb moisture or carbon dioxide from the air, and collect dust. A replacement plastic stopper restores a proper closure, so stock solutions and bench reagents stay clean between practicals. Plastic stoppers are also less likely than glass ones to seize in the necks of bottles that hold alkaline solutions.

Measure the neck opening, or check the size marked on the bottle, before ordering, since the listing gives two sizes: 19/26 and 38 mm. Press the stopper in firmly but without forcing it, wipe any spilled reagent off the neck before closing, and store bottles upright.

What to Specify When Ordering

- Stopper size: 19/26 or 38 mm, matched to your bottle neck.
- Number of stoppers needed in each size.
- The bottle type and the reagent it holds, so the fit can be checked with you.

OEM Manufacturer

Jain Scientific Equipments Private Limited, trading as ScienceLab, manufactures these reagent bottle stoppers as the OEM (original equipment manufacturer) at its own licensed factory at Saha, Ambala, Haryana, India. Stoppers are supplied factory-direct to schools, colleges, laboratories, dealers and importers, often together with the bottles they close.
